THE PROGRAM INTERVIEW

The purpose of the program entry interview is to establish a professional opinion of the candidate’s suitability for entering the Teacher Education Program. Objectives of the interview include the following:

- Confirm the candidate’s desire to enter the profession.
- Establish the extent to which the student is prepared academically to enter the Teacher Education Program.
- Confirm the candidate’s ability to effectively communicate his or her philosophy of education.
- Ascertained that the student is aware of the realities of the teaching profession.
- Assess the candidate’s skills in oral communication.
- Provide the candidate an opportunity to discuss and to form sound perceptions of the Teacher Education Program and of the teaching profession.
- Identify any area(s) in which the candidate may need to improve in order to perform effectively in the Teacher Education Program or in the teaching profession.

THE INTERVIEW PROCESS

The final step for acceptance into the Teacher Education Program (TEP) involves an interview conducted by a minimum of three members of the TEP Committee or designees (TEP faculty, P-12 faculty, P-12 administrators, college professors, etc.) Members ask questions of each candidate. There are ten questions drawn from the textbook used in EDUC 200, Educational Foundations. The textbook used is the Eighth Edition of Becoming A Teacher by F.W. Parkay and B.H. Stanford. Sample interview questions can be found in the Curriculum Center or Teacher Education Office. Candidates are rated on their responses to five questions. The questions are accompanied by an interview score sheet and a rubric for scoring. A sixth category is provided to assess the candidate’s overall communication skills in the interview. Each member of the interview committee will rate the candidate.

Following the interview, the candidate will be excused and the committee members will meet to discuss the interviewee’s performance and their ratings. They will then arrive at a consensus as to a final interviewee score and whether or not the candidate will be admitted to the TEP.

Each candidate will receive an official letter from the Chair of the Education Division notifying him/her of the results of the interview. If the candidate successfully completes the interview process, he/she may register for advanced courses in the TEP.

If the candidate is unsuccessful in the interview process, he/she may appeal the findings of the TEP Committee. This appeal must be made in writing and submitted to the Chair of the Education Division. If the Chair feels the appeal is warranted, another interview may be granted. If the Chair feels the appeal is not warranted, the student is notified to that effect. If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the Chair, he/she can appeal to the Dean of the College. The Dean of the College has the final decision in all academic matters.
