2014 Annual Report
Dear Friends,

As we reach the end of another successful academic year, we are thankful for the blessings we have been granted. In May, we will send another group of students into the world equipped with good character, work experience, knowledge, and a diploma. We hope that you will join us in praying that the Lord blesses them and guides them through the decisions to come.

If you drive through campus you will not only hear the typical buzz of student life, but also the sound of power tools and heavy machinery. The construction of the Bettinger Center for Servant Leadership is well underway. This building is located in the center of our beautiful campus and will house our student work program and campus outreach activities. We also plan to give a facelift to many of our other buildings throughout the course of the summer. We have an exciting project that we hope to inform you of soon. You can stay up to date on that by looking on our website and social media profiles until our summer edition of Pippa’s Song is released.

Alice Geddes Lloyd was truly a selfless servant and her life’s work continues to be an inspiration to Appalachian youth. Our students find ways to give back to our community, region, and country each year. In February, a group of students united to raise money and awareness for autism (read more on the adjoining page), while another student has devoted his life to the U.S. Marines (read more on page 2).

Our students excel inside the classroom, too. ALC’s Sports and Fitness Programs Management major was named as one of the top 20 in the country (read more on the adjoining page). ALC alumnus Chad Corum is one example of how a rigorous academic program prepares one for professional school and the workforce. He now owns Corum Family Pharmacy in his hometown of Manchester, Kentucky (read more on page 34). The June Buchanan School, the college preparatory school on ALC’s campus, graduates some of the best students in the region. JBS academic teams have performed remarkably well at every level (results on page 3). The combination of academic excellence and servant leadership enable our students to stand out among the rest.

A priority of Alice Lloyd was to educate mountain students regardless of their ability to pay. With the help of our donors and friends, we’re able to carry on that promise. As you read through the 2014 Annual Report, you will see the names of those who are aiding us in this rewarding endeavor. Thank you so much for the part that you play in educating servant-leaders for Appalachia.

May God grant you his peace and love.

Joe Alan Stepp
President
Alice Lloyd College has been recognized under “20 Great Small Colleges for a Bachelor’s Degree in Sports Management.” In order to even be considered, colleges must offer a bachelor’s degree in sports management, have a student population of less than three thousand, and be a public, private non-profit, or 4-year school.

Twenty finalists were chosen based on the selectiveness of the schools as indicated by the percent of students admitted. The finalists were then arranged in ascending order by the freshmen retention rate. Alice Lloyd College placed fourteenth out of the twenty finalists.

Alice Lloyd College takes pride in having challenging and stimulating academic programs. The Sports and Fitness Programs Management major offers students insight into the creation and administration of programs in community recreation, information about state/city parks, camps, resorts, and corporate fitness programs, as well as knowledge regarding youth service organizations and church programs.

For more information about the Sports and Fitness Programs Management or any of our other majors, visit www.alc.edu/academics/degree-majors/.

In February, a group of students joined together to make a difference in our community. Senior Tessa Amburgey organized a way for her fellow students to raise money and awareness for autism.

The money was collected and donated to Autism Speaks, the leading organization for awareness, treatment, and prevention for autism. Tessa says, “Autism is something that we all need to be aware of. Too many people don’t know what autism is, and it’s very prominent in America.” In fact, according to the Center for Disease Control, 1 in 68 infants are born with autism.

Autism Awareness is important because the children can’t always speak about it, so it’s up to us to be their voice and spread awareness. ALC Senior Tonya Perry had this to say, “This walk hits home for me because my nephew has autism. He is a very special little boy and I wouldn’t change him for the world; I want to change the world for him.”

Tessa decided to start fundraising for Autism Speaks because she felt as though it was something that needs to be acknowledged. She helped to set up a Walk-A-Thon in order to raise money for the organization. Participating members collected donations and pledges. The group set a personal goal of $400, but raised over $1,000 for the cause.
Jacob Campbell: Selfless Servant

by Adele Williams

Alice Lloyd College sophomore Jacob Campbell is the epitome of a selfless servant, a value also shared by our founder, Alice Lloyd. Jacob, from McRoberts, Kentucky, is working hard to earn his degree in Physical Education K-12 while serving his country as a member of the Marine Corps Reserves.

Jacob graduated from Jenkins High School in the spring of 2013 and began attending Alice Lloyd College the following fall. Jacob had friends that attended Alice Lloyd College and talked about how they loved the campus atmosphere. Upon visiting Alice Lloyd College, he said, “I really liked it. It’s a small town environment; so, when I got here it was just like being at home.”

As a part of the Appalachian Leaders College Scholarship, which guarantees the cost of tuition for students originating from our 108-county service area, Jacob’s work study entails daily garbage runs for the grounds crew. Being a member of the grounds crew means doing the jobs that others don’t really want to do. ALC’s grounds crew works diligently to keep the campus clean. Alice Lloyd engrained the importance of a strong work ethic to students since the inception of the College. Jacob is the perfect example of how Mrs. Lloyd’s teachings are still practiced today. In addition to this, Jacob is able to find time in his busy schedule to volunteer at food shelters with his mom.

Jacob decided to become a Physical Education major because of his love for athletics and the desire to be a mentor for our future leaders. Jacob says, “I want to coach basketball, but I’m also really good with kids.” But, Jacob also had another dream. “I was always fascinated by the army as a kid.” Jacob says he had always wanted to join the Marines, but put his education first and because of this he had never felt that the moment was right. He finally decided to talk to a recruiter and check out his options. He found that not only would he be able to continue his education while becoming a Marine, but that the Marine Corps would also financially assist him through the process.

After spending one year at ALC, Jacob left to begin his training on July 14th of 2014. “I went to Paris Island to train for three months and then I got to go home for ten days to visit with my family. After that, I was sent to Jacksonville, North Carolina, to finish my training for three more months. So, I was gone for six months and missed a semester.” While there, Jacob was designated a team leader in boot camp, leading a fire squad through combat training. Jacob signed up for a contract of “6x2” which means that he will be a member of the Marine Corps for eight years. “I’ll probably do another term after that because I really like it.”

Jacob goes on to say that he can find many similarities between the Marines and ALC. “The professionalism that both promote strikes me.” Alice Lloyd College requires all full-time students to dress professionally every Tuesday or when attending a convocation. “We have a professional dress day in the Marines, too. On Fridays we have to dress a certain way according to the season.” He says the rules and expectations of students also remind him of the Marines in the sense that they both work to build a well-rounded individual with strong morals and values.

However, there are differences as well and this sometimes creates a problem for Jacob. “In the Marines, we learn by what we call “prac-app.” The idea is that you just go and do it, and that you will learn from the experience.” This is far different from the classroom. “It’s different. It’s hard going from being a Marine full-time to a student. I’m used to running around doing stuff all the time, then at ALC I go to class and sit down while I try to retain all of this information. I have to sit down and force myself to focus.” Jacob says that it’s a hard transition, but his professors have been very supportive and helpful along the way.

In addition to the support of his professors, Jacob says that he loves the intimacy of the campus. This was only reinforced by his experience in Jacksonville, North Carolina, where he says, “There are a lot of people, and they just weren’t as friendly. I’m used to being here where you can just walk down the street and strike up a conversation with anybody.”

Jacob is scheduled to be deployed in the summer of 2015, but intends to pick up his education at ALC again as soon as he returns home. He has plans to coach basketball and perhaps teach history. For now, he is focusing on his grades and hoping that his deployment will land him in Europe.

We are wishing Jacob safe and happy travels as he continues to serve the United States of America.
The June Buchanan School Excels in Academics

The June Buchanan School is in the midst of another outstanding Academic Team season. The Crusaders brought home numerous awards in the recent District and Regional Governor’s Cup competitions. Charitable Gift Annuity

A great way to secure the future of students attending Alice Lloyd College in years to come, and retain income for yourself during your lifetime.

The Charitable Gift Annuity (CGA for short) is a planned giving contract between you – the donor – and Alice Lloyd College – the beneficiary. When you send your gift – typically $2,500 or more – to the College, we will pay you annual income for your lifetime – and another person, if you so desire.

The CGA provides attractive income rates, depending on your age. The chart at the right shows current rates for a single-life annuity. If you would like a quote on a two-life annuity, just call us.

For more information or a no-obligation proposal, contact: Margo Sparkman, Director of Development, (606) 368-6039.

32 Annual Report 2014
If you have recently gotten married or had a child, we’d like to know!

In recognition of these special events, Alice Lloyd College wants to send a congratulatory gift to you! Please share details by contacting the Alumni Office at (606)368-6044 or by email: teresagrender@alc.edu or jenniferthornsbeary@alc.edu.

The celebrations closest to your heart are also important to us, and we’d like to share them with you!
LLOYD IS BACK!

Former student, Lloyd Eagle, has landed in Pippa Passes after years of traveling the world!

When Lloyd was asked about his return, he said, “Of all the places I have visited, Caney Creek is still my home!”

- No one knows for sure where Lloyd is from – he just appeared one day and enrolled in classes!
- An outgoing student, Lloyd served as president of his class and participated in many campus activities such as the Voices of Appalachia and the Environmental Club.
- Lloyd was highly athletic, and he played a number of sports.
- The ladies loved Lloyd, and he was often found perched on the Rock Wall surrounded by his flock of friends.
- After graduating with honors, Lloyd continued his Purpose Road journey and became devoted to world service.
- Today, Lloyd is excited to be back on campus – “the old stomping ground,” as he calls it!

Lloyd is impressed with the progress he is seeing! He is pleased to hear that fellow alumni have increased their involvement and support – he realizes how much this means to the College.

“Giving back” is important to Lloyd, and he has volunteered to hang around the Alumni Office to help for a while. He has already made his annual alumni donation, and encourages YOU to do the same!

The amount given doesn’t even matter – EVERY gift makes a BIG difference!

Here is the best part – after you give, you can send Lloyd on an adventure to have his photo taken with a special campus person or at a specific campus location that means a lot to you! He will then post a personalized “Thank You” photo on the Alice Lloyd College Alumni Facebook page, and can also email the photo to you!

Please make your donation soon, as Lloyd’s visit won’t last forever!

You may use the enclosed envelope, or even make your gift online at www.alc.edu.

Together, you and Lloyd can show your Eagle Pride and make a difference for ALC!
